

The Land Of The Joy Strike

By WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE
(Copyright By Wheeler Syndicate)

LONDON, July 5.—England is in the midst of a great joy strike. The winter is over and gone and the song of the turtle is heard in the land. Reckless to war weariness the land has resulted in a summer madness that is gay and full of youth. No one wants to work. Hundreds of thousands of people—perhaps millions—are living upon their unemployment houses, or upon their demobilization money and it is a merry England! Take the case of cook—a good and virtuous soul. For four years cook has had rather a hard time. Her brother or husband or her father or her sweetheart—and perhaps all four (for cook although a virtuous soul still has poetry and imagination in her life) are at the front. And cook has been living in England and has suffered many long hours. Moreover, she has been bombed; houses about her have fallen; women and children have been slaughtered, and night after night every month-end period—cook has had to sleep in the cellar or be routed out to go to the underground railway, and probably still she has been underfed and very likely overworked. For the food shortage in England was genuine, and the need of workers was terrible.

Possibly cook left her job and went into industry, where she has worked hard under severe strain. So she is tired—tired at heart and not without a certain weariness of soul at the sorrow she has escaped! For in England sorrow has come to every one. No one here escaped. There is no mourning on the streets. No one wears black veils; it was bad form. But death walked through the house of England during the past five years marking every door post.

So she gets an unemployment allowance from the government. And every day she puts in a few hours a day just about looking for work. Sure she wants work! How can she afford to be idle on the few shillings a week that come from her unemployment allowance? Only she must have every afternoon off, and no washing and the house maid to get supper. Sunday evening and every other night after tea. And of course such a job is hard to find. And will she sign my card, mum, as I believe that I have made a decent effort to get work.

And if you sign her card she goes off to South Had to the beach and spends the day according to the dictates of her conscience, which also being weary permits certain romantic dreams to come true that otherwise might not have fructified. And cook is a good virtuous soul at that. And so is the mistress and so is master. England on its gorgeous joy strike has not let down the bars. England for the moment has kicked down the fence, in the exuberance of youth.

DIRIGIBLE, SHORT OF FUEL, ASKS U. S. NAVY FOR AID; TWO WARSHIPS HURRYING TO ITS ASSISTANCE

DECLARE WAR ON GERMAN GOVERNMENT

LONDON, July 5.—The German conservative party has issued a proclamation signed by Ernst Von Heydrich, the party's leader in the Reichstag, stating that the party "declares war on the government and intends to use its whole strength to reestablish the monarchy," according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Hindenburg Claims He Is Responsible

LONDON, July 5.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, former chief of the German staff, declares that he is responsible for acts of German main headquarters since August, 1916, and also the proclamations of former Emperor William, concerning the waging of war-fare. He asks President Ebert, of Germany, to inform the allies to this effect, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The field marshal arrived in Hanover on Friday, the dispatch states, and telegraphed the following message to President Ebert:

"The signing of the peace treaty gives me occasion for declaring that I am responsible for the decisions and acts of main headquarters since August 20, 1916, and also that all proclamations and orders of his majesty, the emperor and king, concerning the waging of war fare were issued upon my advice and upon my responsibility. I beg you therefore to inform the German people and the allied governments of this declaration."

WILSON TO ADDRESS THE SENATE THURSDAY

NEW YORK, July 5.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, announced here today that according to the present program, Mr. Wilson will address the senate on Thursday. Mr. Tumulty said that the president would be greeted at the pier on his arrival here Tuesday by the school children at Hoboken, who will form lines through which he will pass to the 23rd street ferry. He will cross the Hudson on a city ferry boat and will be received on the New York side by the official reception committee, headed by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan. After his reception Mr. Wilson will motor by way of Fifth avenue to Carnegie Hall, where he will deliver a brief address. He will leave New York for Washington at 5 p. m.

RANSACKING FOOD SHOPS

FLORENCE, Friday, July 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Carabinieri fired upon crowds here today. Disorders are increasing and the ransacking of shops is widespread. Strengthened by riotous, the crowd has abandoned itself to the general sacking of all shops without distinction, destroying what it is unable to carry away. One entire street is flooded with petroleum, gasoline, wine, beer and olive oil.

Whenever the chamber of labor is able to exercise authority goods are being transported to special warehouses under the red flag, even from cars being pressed into this service. Large quantities of supplies are being turned over to the municipality in the Piazza Signoria, the chief square of the city. Goods taken from shops is also being placed in the care of the municipality or the chamber of labor. Thousands of boxes of matches are being distributed free to the crowds.

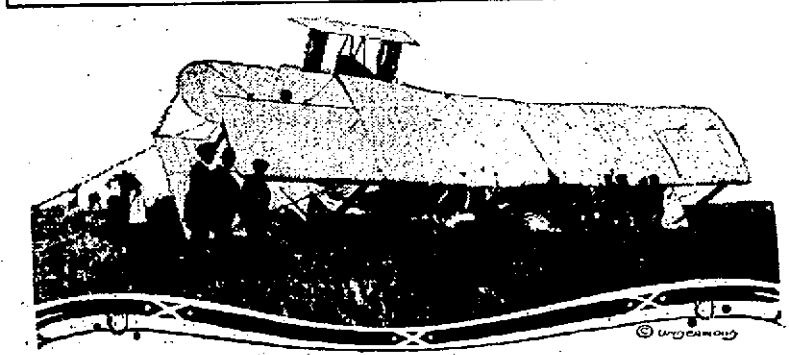

The only shops respected by the rioters were those bearing the inscription: "This shop is at the disposal of the chamber of labor." The chamber of labor apparently has become the only authority to which the people pay any attention. It issues orders frequently. The automobiles and cars permitted to use the streets must bear a sign reading "circulation allowed by chamber of labor." The local authorities seemingly have made no effort to oppose the chamber.

THE MADAME IS REFUSED ADMISSION

GENEVA, Friday, July 4.—Madame Betty Kun, wife of the foreign minister of the Hungarian soviet government, arrived at the Swiss frontier yesterday, but was not allowed to cross by the authorities who applied the new law controlling the entry of aliens.

The wife of the Hungarian Bolshevik dictator is said to have had a large sum of money in her possession, with which it is supposed she intended to engage in Bolshevik propaganda. She also had several large trunks and many servants with her. Following the refusal of the authorities to permit her to enter Switzerland, she went to Innsbruck.

FRANCHISE OF FOURTH OPEN TO THE WORLD

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Friday, July 4.—(By wireless to the Associated Press)—"This is the most tremendous Fourth of July ever imagined for we have opened its franchise to the whole world," said President Wilson in a stirring speech to soldiers and sailors massed on the deck of the presidential steamer this afternoon.

The men gave Mr. Wilson three cheers and as he appeared among them and began his address, greeted them as "my fellow citizens." It was a striking picture with several thousand khaki clad doughboys and blue jacketed sailors crowding the decks, life boats and rigging and with the president, bareheaded and earnest, in their midst. His theme was "The New and Enlarged Meaning Of The Fourth Of July." The president said the war has borne America's message of liberty and independence to the remotest corners of the earth. He spoke of the future to America, and said: "You cannot earn a reputation like that and not live up to it."

WILSON APPROVES PLANS FOR RECEPTION TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—President Wilson has approved the program for his reception at New York Tuesday. He will land at Hoboken at 2:30 o'clock, cross the ferry to Manhattan and proceed by automobile to Carnegie Hall, where formal welcoming ceremonies will be held.

CLEVELAND, O., July 5.—An eleventh hour attempt to avert the street car strike scheduled for Sunday morning was made today at a special meeting of the city council which was attended by Mayor Davis, officials of the Cleveland Street Railway Company and representatives of the street car men's union.

COMMANDER OF BIG BRITISH DIRIGIBLE

MAJ. G. H. SCOTT

MAJ. G. H. SCOTT is commander of the R-34, the huge British dirigible which enjoys the distinction of being the first lighter than air machine to fly across the Atlantic.

STRONG WINDS AND DENSE FOG THE CAUSE OF DISTRESS OF CRAFT

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—Two American destroyers were ordered today to proceed toward the Bay of Fundy, to lend any required assistance to the British dirigible R-34, which reported that she was fighting a head wind over Nova Scotia with her fuel supply getting low.

The destroyers will put out from Boston with orders to establish radio communication from the dirigible as quickly as possible and also to keep in touch with the Otter Cliff, Maine, wireless station.

HALIFAX, July 5.—The R-34 was still proceeding under her own power at 2:15 p. m. according to a wireless message received here. She passed over Mailand, Hants county, N. S., at 2:30 o'clock, headed for the Basin of Minas, according to telephone advice. Mailand is 53 miles northwest of Halifax at the head of the Basin of Minas, which is a tributary to the Bay of Fundy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—The British dirigible R-34 has asked the navy department if an American destroyer could meet her at the Bay of Fundy, and take her in tow if required.

The message was received at the department at 11 a. m. five minutes after one addressed to the British admiralty reporting that the R-34's fuel supply was getting low. The ship was then flying across Nova Scotia against a strong head wind.

The message to the air ministry which was intercepted at the Otter Cliff naval station, said: "Flying across Nova Scotia. Strong head wind. Petrol beginning to get short."

"COMMANDING OFFICER." The message to the navy department, signed by Commander Zachary Lansdowne, U. S. N., for the commander of the dirigible, follows:

"To Navy Department, Washington, and Commandant Second Naval District, Boston: Could destroyer proceed if required to southern end of Bay of Fundy and take his majesty's airship R-34 in tow?"

NAVY WILL ASSIST IT. Admiral William S. Benson, chief of naval operations, and acting secretary, sent orders to the commandant of the first naval district at Boston, after receipt of a message from Commander Zachary Lansdowne, U. S. N., who is on the R-34, asking if destroyers could tow the dirigible to port if necessary. Commander Lansdowne's message as well as a previous one from the airship, reporting that she was over Nova Scotia, was flashed from Washington to the air ministry at London with assurances that the American navy would render all possible assistance should any be required.

GOES OUT TO AID R-34. BOSTON, July 5.—The navy converted yacht Scylla sailed this afternoon from Machias Bay, Maine, to the assistance of the R-34. It is thought that she will come up with the dirigible about 3 o'clock.

WILL ARRIVE SUNDAY MORNING. MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., July 5.—The R-34 will arrive at Roosevelt Field Sunday morning, according to a wireless message from Major Scott, her commander, received today by Lieutenant Colonel Lanza, who represents the British admiralty in making arrangements for her reception.

According to the information received by Lieutenant Colonel Lanza, two destroyers have been sent at full speed in response to the call for assistance from the R-34.

DIRIGIBLE IN A FOG

BOSTON, July 5.—Reports from the R-34 this morning had placed her in a fog over Nova Scotia between Halifax and Cape.

She had been in the air approximately 61 hours when the message asking for a tow by an American destroyer was received, having taken the air from East Fortune, Scotland, at 11:30 a. m. on July 3.

AT SOUTH END OF BAY

HALIFAX, July 5.—A wireless message received by admiralty officials here at 12:30 o'clock stated that the R-34 was at the south end of the Bay of Fundy between Yarmouth and the Grand Manan.

WILL SEND BACK MAIL

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—Post office department officials expect to send mail to England on the British dirigible R-34, which is due to reach Roosevelt Field, Long Island, today. Government departments have been notified that the dirigible will carry mail and the pouches will be rushed to Long Island from Washington after the R-34 arrives if proper connections can be made.

WRAPPED IN MIST

NEW YORK, July 5.—At noon today the huge British dirigible R-34, wrapped in the folds of mist that shrouded the Nova Scotia coast, was striving to guide her course by first wireless communication with a score of stations and warships along the North Atlantic littoral.

The eager listeners on shore could (Continued on Page Six)

AUTOIST OPENS FIRE ON GANG WHO HAD STONED HIS AUTO

Quite a bit of excitement was caused in the vicinity of Rushtown last night when an autoist fired several shots at a gang of hoodlums who threw stones striking his machine. The autoist escaped but the man made it pretty hot for them for a time as he pursued them for some distance through corn fields in the bottoms.

Complaints that a gang have been stoning passing machines along the loop road between Rushtown and the Lucasville bridge have been received by local officers the past few days and a vigorous effort will be made at once to round up the gang. Several persons have had narrow escapes from being struck by missiles hurled by the hoodlums.

The features of the game were the fielding of W. Scott, and the pitching of Stratton, who whiffed nine men. Cole was the slinger of the day's scoring. Three doubles in two games Smith was the only Sciotoville pitcher offensive against Webster. C. Aris made a fine catch of Cole's long fly which looked good for three bases. Centenary Celebration Columbus

Remember this great Centenary Celebration closes its gates on Sunday, July 13th.

(OHIO)

Described by William C. Freeman, Associated with Paul Block, 1625 New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston.

The people of Columbus are to be congratulated that among their number there are so many wonderful young men and women who have given freely of their time and talents to making the GREAT PAGEANT shown in the Coliseum slightly a great success.

In my time I have seen a great many remarkable stage effects, but the magnificent colorings displayed during the Pageant show, and the natural acting of the participants, surpasses anything I have seen.

D. W. GRIFFITH, THAT GREAT MOTION PICTURE PRODUCER, shares this view with me, or rather, I share his view of it, because, unquestionably, he is a better judge than I, for he personally reviewed it.

Yet I like what I like and can see with two perfectly good eyes what I like.

I like this Great Pageant Show immensely, and so will you.

The people of Ohio, and of every where, for that matter, are to be congratulated that there are always talented and unselfish volunteers among their number WILLING TO DO ANYTHING OR EVERYTHING TO PUT A GREAT CAUSE OVER THE TOP.

The local talent of Columbus; the capital of Ohio, IS GREAT.

It has produced a magnificent Pageant.

You must see the costumes and the stage color effects, which cost many thousands of dollars.

These alone are worth traveling a thousand miles to see. You will see at this CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS what has been accomplished by the spirit of manhood and training the minds of people of other countries to whom have been denied the blessings we enjoy in such abundance.

You will see evidence of the development of character and industry—and what can be done when FAITH AND HIGH RESOLVE get a foothold in the hearts and brains of human beings that were hopeless and helpless before they were touched by human kindness and sympathy, and assisted to self respect.

WORK OF THIS KIND MADE THE CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS POSSIBLE. Personally I think it was an inspiration of God, carried out in magnificent detail by a group of men and women who are the devout followers.

Otherwise I don't believe any group of human minds—brilliant though they may be in imagination and initiative—could have planned such a helpful, inspiring and fulfilling exposition. I want you to feel as I do about this CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS.

When you see it, as I hope you will, you will get its lesson deep into your mind and heart as I have.

The more I see of it, the more I want to see.

When you enter the State Fair Grounds Columbus—one of the beauty spots in the great State of Ohio—you will be immediately impressed with the crowds and the noise and the laughter, and the excitement of the fair. You will get all day long, and until late in the evening, a combination of heart-thrills and joy such as you have never experienced before.

When a celebration is capable of teaching a GREAT LESSON, besides contributing generously to good causes, it should be seen by every human being. Show by your presence that you are in accord with THE GREAT WORK being done by the splendid men and women who have planned this CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS, so that you may see for yourselves how the PROGRESS and the joy are combined in this celebration. Methods will be applied in rebuilding the world.

You may see everything all day long for an entrance fee of 50 cents—and this GREAT PAGEANT is the event of the year for an extra 10 cents.

TWO HORSES BURNED TO DEATH WHEN FLAMES DESTROY BARN

When the barn on the Ritz farm, two miles west of South Portsmouth, was completely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon about three o'clock, two horses were burned to death. Members of the Ritz family who were working in a wheat field near the barn discovered the fire, which was then beyond all control. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Bank Is Prosperous

The following from the Gallipoli Tribune will be of interest to the local friends of A. P. Kerr, who is the cashier and manager of the bank mentioned:

"Seven $100 shares of Commercial & Savings Bank stock were sold at auction Wednesday by H. G. Johnson, as administrator for the estate of P. M. Carter. After spirited bidding it was run up from $215 to $290 a share, and finally knocked off to John Gill for $2,100.

The bank has a surplus of $95,000, which is only $5,000 less than twice its capitalization, which is partially accounts for the high market value of the stock."

hear her electric signals but British admiralty officials and American army aviation officers agreed that the wireless apparatus of the dirigible must have become damaged, for while they could hear her signals they were apparently unable to communicate with her.

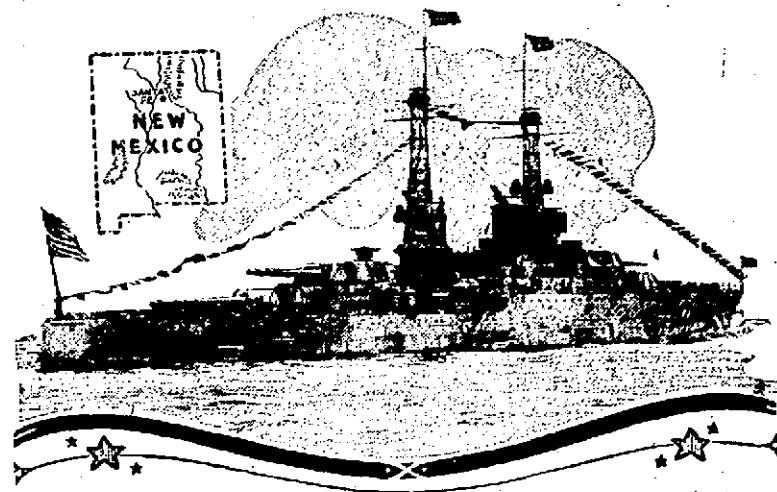

The last definite word of the position of the airship up to midday, was a wireless message, saying she was cruising between Halifax and Canada, and that "all is well." Canada is a little Nova Scotia town about 140 miles north of Halifax and about 750 miles from New York as the crow flies.

ENROUTE 86 HOURS
At that time it was approximately 86 hours since the mammoth airship had soared over Edinburgh and started on her western voyage. In the interval she had traveled an estimated distance of 2,350 miles, but this total probably would be materially increased on account of losing her course through fog.

The first word of her arrival over the western hemisphere came from Notre Dame Bay, one of the great inlets on the North New Foundland coast, at 4:30 a. m. (New York time) yesterday morning. In a rift in the eternal fog that binds that northern shore the huge mass of the air liner was seen for a brief space and then the mists closed up on her again.

Three People Almost Drowned While Bathing In Turkey Creek

DREADNAUGHT NEW MEXICO CHOSEN FLAGSHIP OF PACIFIC FLEET

The dreadnaught New Mexico, chosen flagship of the newly formed Pacific fleet. This squadron, which will protect the western coast of the United States, is the most formidable fleet ever assembled on the U. S. side of the Pacific.

Turkey Creek, near Evans Grove, on the West Side, was the scene of a near drowning Friday afternoon, when Margaret Wall, about eleven years of age, and her father, T. L. Wall, of 1824 Grandview avenue, and Mrs. C. H. Chase, of 1333 Seventh street, almost lost their lives in the creek.

To Charles Emmett, 16, of 1614 Twelfth street, goes the credit of pulling the three from the water. Mr. Wall was treading his young daughter low to swim. Mrs. Chase and young Emmett were behind the father and daughter, and in making a stroke Mrs. Chase struck the child's foot. The child became panic-stricken and grabbed Mrs. Chase around the neck. She had a tight hold on the woman's neck, as the point of her fingers were plainly visible on Mrs. Chase's throat this morning. Mr. Wall made an attempt to save the woman and his daughter, but the two were too much for him.

Young Emmett is a good swimmer and he took charge of Mrs. Chase, allowing Mr. Wall to look out for his daughter. All three were pulled ashore as each had a hold of the other. They were only a few yards from the bank, but the place they were in was about eight feet deep.

Revolutionists In The Saddle At Peruvian Capital

LIMA, PERU, Friday, July 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Augusto B. Legula today assumed office as provisional president of Peru, and took up his residence in the government palace as a result of the successful overthrow earlier in the day of President Pardo.

Senor Pardo, his ministers and a number of high officers of the army and navy are in prison, Pardo being detained in the penitentiary here. Virtually no fighting and no casualties marked the overthrow of the Pardo government. Senor Legula is supported by virtually all of the army and naval forces in Lima and public opinion here apparently is behind him.

The revolution began at 3 o'clock this morning with an attack on the police by two regiments of troops and a force of police. By six o'clock President Pardo had been deposed and Senor Legula proclaimed provisional president. The movement was similar to that which resulted in the overthrow of President Guillermo D. Linghieri on February 4, 1911.

It was announced today that President Pardo would be placed on trial on charges of having violated the constitution and having conspired against the institutions of the republic. It is alleged that the government, in refusing to obey the order of the supreme court in the habeas corpus proceedings in connection with the newspaper El Tiempo, was a violation of the constitution. Another charge against Senor Pardo is that he attempted to purchase the votes of members of congress in order to carry out his plans to annul the election of Senor Legula as president, and to place the candidate of his own party in power.

The inauguration of Senor Legula as president, it is said, probably will take place within two months. The provisional president claims that he received 100,000 votes of the 200,000 cast in the recent presidential election.

Number Of Accidents Mar Fourth

Firecracker Explodes Inside Boy's Mouth

Two serious accidents, due to the youth, happened in Portsmouth. A number of minor accidents were also reported, such as powder burned fingers and other accidents that were not attended with serious results. The majority of the physicians reported a quiet Fourth.

The most serious accident was suffered by Ronald Bertram, seven-year-old son of William Bertram, of Seventh and Summit streets, a firecracker exploding inside of his mouth.

The boy rushed into the street and picked up a firecracker that did not explode. He had the firecracker between his teeth when a boy playmate struck the firecracker and knocked it into the boy's mouth. The firecracker exploded, burning the inside of the boy's mouth and causing intense pain.

A physician was called and did everything possible to relieve the boy's suffering. On account of the tender tissues of the mouth, it was hard to scrub out the poison. The inside of the cheeks, tongue and gums were burned. On account of the danger of the possible development of lockjaw, the physician administered antitoxin serum.

All Thin People Here Should Take Systoxem
It contains body-building, flesh-making and vigor-producing substances now known to be lacking and often wanting in many modern foods. It is guaranteed to increase the weight and strength of thin, delicate, run-down men and women in two weeks' time in many instances. It is discussed in this city by Geo. W. Freund, Vester Bros and other good druggists, without a doctor's prescription. It is not a secret preparation. Simply take two regular five-grain Systoxem tablets with a glass of water after meals for a while, then watch that fat, weak, dizzy feeling disappear, strength return and weight increase. Let the scales and some simple way of testing your strength and endurance tell you when to stop this new popular treatment.

Charge Not Sustained

NO FIRE CALLS ON THE 4TH; TWO CAME IN THIS MORNING

The fire department did not have a call on the Fourth, but early this morning had to respond to two alarms. The first alarm at 1:15 this morning called the firemen to the Jack Haynes home on Twelfth street near Railroad street in a clothes press was on fire. Mr. Haynes used a bucket of water to extinguish the fire. The loss did not amount to $5.

The firemen had just returned to their homes when an alarm was sounded from Gullia and Campbell streets. "Flakes" in the yard of the Portsmouth State and Range Co. were on fire, probably caused by a skyrocket stick.

The Hazeltine Company will insure for $10,000.

Girl Overcome By Heat Dies

Drops Over On Road

Lizzie Kirk, 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kirk, Clifford, above Lucasville, was overcome with heat about 4:30 Thursday afternoon and several hours later died without regaining consciousness.

The girl had walked to George P. O. early in the day and after spending some time with relatives and friends started home. She was met in Lucasville by an older sister who was to accompany her home from the village.

A short distance this side of Clifford in front of the Maple house the girl toppled to the road, overcome with heat. The sister was greatly frightened and secured help from a neighboring house. Willing hands helped take the girl to her home a short distance away and Dr. D. C. Coleman of Lucasville, was called.

The attending physician did everything possible to save the girl but she never regained consciousness and about 8 o'clock Thursday evening passed away with loved ones at her bedside. The Kirk family is well known in the vicinity of Clifford and word of the girl's death came as a shock to that community. Besides the parents several brothers and sister survive.

The funeral was held from the home Saturday.

DEMPSEY WEIGHED 56 POUNDS LESS THAN WILLARD IN FIGHT

TOLEDO, O., July 5.—There was a difference of fifty-six pounds in the weight of Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey when they entered the ring for their heavy-weight championship contest yesterday. This was revealed today when all camouflage was stripped from the Dempsey weight question. The new champion weighed 187 pounds, while Willard scaled 243 at the ring time. Willing the world's championship had up to effect on Dempsey today he acted as if he knew it was coming to him and he exhibited not the slightest surprise. He was out of bed at 6 o'clock, moved to his training camp for a visit with friends of the Maumee Bay shore district and then returned to his hotel quarters in Toledo. He expects to remain here until he leaves to accept some theatrical tour of the next six months. Dempsey has received a score of offers and expects to accept one offering of $10,000 a week for twelve weeks was made him.

"I am going to try and be a popular champion," Jack said. "I believe the public wants a champion who will defend his title frequently and I intend to be that kind of a champion. I believe, however, that I am entitled to take a rest and make some money out of the title doing theatrical work. I want to lay off boxing for six or eight months to do this. But I will fight just as soon as a man considered a contender is found."

Willard has definitely retired from the ring. He will devote his entire attention to oil interests. The defeated champion said today that rumors that he was severely injured and that he was taken to a hospital were gross exaggerations. The only injury he suffered was a deep cut over the eye and a badly cut mouth. He did not lose any teeth, nor was his jaw fractured.

Dempsey asserted that he had no feeling toward Willard except that of admiration.

"Boxing is a business with both of us and Willard proved himself a game fellow all thru the fight. He took an awful beating and certainly proved his gameness."

"When I shook his hands after the fight, I said to him 'Well Jess it's all over. I am sorry I had to cut you up so much.'"

Reviving the Bride.
They were being married in a small country church that was heated with a stove. Everything went well until at the close of the ceremony the bride fainted. In the general excitement that followed the bridegroom lost his head. He grabbed the empty canister and rushed to the pump for some water. Then he came running in and dashed a scuttful of black sooty water over his then reviving bride.

With a Previso.
James was fond of one of his mother's friends, a girl in her twenties. One day, when he had been particularly well entertained by her, he remarked: "Aunt Margie, when I grew up I'm going to marry you." Then he looked at her thoughtfully and added: "That is, if you last long enough."

Roosevelt's Long Ride.
In February, 1900, the late former President Roosevelt rode 95 miles on horseback in the seventeen hours between daylight and dark. The trip was from Washington to Warrenton and return. Three horses were used.

The Chief Object.
Set before you, as the chief object to be obtained, an end that is superior to any on earth—a desirable end, a perfect end. Labor to accomplish a work that shall survive unchanged and beautiful, when theories of power and monuments of art shall have crumbled to ashes; aim to achieve something, which, when these mutable values are hushed forever, shall live amid the beams and triumphs of immortality.—Edwin H. Chapin.

Regularly Acquired.
I was visiting in a little country place and was about to board the train to return when I noticed a dear little girl with tight curls close to her head, and, calling her, I asked: "Where did you get all those pretty curls?" Much annoyed, she answered: "Oh, day was on me when I turned."—Chicago Tribune.

Saves Proved Their Value.
In the great fire at Chicago, October 8 to 11, 1871, the buildings of 18 national banks were destroyed. It was feared that the banks would suffer in many cases an almost total loss, but after the safes recovered from the ruins were opened it was found that the books, papers, etc., were in a condition to permit the recovery of debts, and the banks suffered no loss on that ground.

China's Water Transportation.
On the rivers, streams or canals of China transportation and postal facilities depend on the sampans. Women, as well as men, operate them all day and the prehensile foot renders them task much easier. Every Chinese postman, lying on his back, steers with his hands and rows with his feet. He holds the oar strongly between the great toe and the others and gives a vigorous motion to the boat by the powerful action of the leg muscles.

Memorial Statue of Edith Cavell by the Sculptor Sir George Frampton To Be Completed by October 12, the Fourth Anniversary of Her Murder.

[Special Report.]
LONDON, Saturday.—The article as well as the lay world watching the efforts of Sir George Frampton, to complete a memorial statue of Edith Cavell by October 12, the fourth anniversary of the heroine's martyrdom, the date he has said he must call his work done. It is said to be a statue that good art cannot be regarded or limited by the clock, but Sir George for the memorial reason is not out to do the work in a hurry.

The memorial will be a granite block from the Cornish quarries. All that is to be done on that score is to bring the block to London and place it on the site between the National Portrait Gallery and St. Martin-in-the-Fields. The sculptor's work consists of a figure of the heroine, standing on a base of granite. The figure will be in the attitude of a woman who is about to be executed. The base will be in the shape of a cross. The figure will be in the attitude of a woman who is about to be executed. The base will be in the shape of a cross.

Dempsey Acclaimed As Hero; Willard's Head Packed In Ice

Columbus Mendels Beaten By All Stars, 5-1

Winner Was Sure He Had Won In The First Round; Referee Thought Same

TOLEDO, July 5.—Though a new heavy-weight champion has been crowned in Jack Dempsey, and the Toledo hotel, controversy still rages over the sensational defeat of Jess Willard here late yesterday afternoon.

So many unusual angles developed during the nine minutes of terrific fist-bombardment that scarcely two spectators saw the scene the same. The uncertainty regarding the situation at the end of the first round when Dempsey left the ring believing that he had won a knock-out, and the payment of such wagers as hinged on when Willard was stopped, furnished unlimited material for argument.

So weak was the sound of the gong, and so great the uproar about the ring that Referee Percord failed to hear the bell and continued to count over Willard as he sat on the ring floor near a neutral corner, although Time-keeper Harbour ordered the ring when Percord's arm was falling for the seventh time. The referee noticed Dempsey that he had won, and the Salt Lake City pugilist was well on his way to his dressing room before his manager overtook him and was told that he was in danger of being disqualified on a technicality for leaving the ring.

The question of which round Dempsey won his new title was placed before several veteran ring officials by men who had wagers at stake, and the consensus was that Dempsey stopped Willard in the third round, as the latter's seconds tossed the towel of defeat into the center of the ring before the bell rang for the beginning of the fourth session. These same veterans pointed out several other interesting features. They stated that it was the first time that a heavy-weight champion had ever admitted defeat without leaving his chair as well as the shortest heavy-weight championship combat of modern ring history.

Dempsey was soon dressed and moved in evidence about the downtown station, followed by a wildly enthusiastic and cheering throng of admirers. When he appeared for dinner at the leading hotel, the corridors were a mass of swirling spectators who pecked at Willard's conqueror as he broke training and dined in a manner entirely different from the simple means of the past two months.

At the same hour, his dethroned opponent was resting in his temporary home in a residential section, with his battered head packed in ice bags and cut off from communication with the outside world by a guard that even the telephone could not penetrate. He was examined by the boxing commission physician, however, soon after his return from the ring. The latter stated officially that Willard was not seriously injured and would be able to appear in public as soon as his bruises and other marks of battle had yielded to ordinary treatment. These bruises, while most superficial, were trivially impressive during the fight and caused great consternation in the ladies' box at the far edge of the arena, where more than a hundred of the feminine sex were the special guests of the promoters and principals.

Immediately after the fight, the following statements were made by the participants:

Willard said: "In the first round when Dempsey hit me with a left hook, I tried hard to continue, but I was rapidly losing my strength. My eye was closed at the end of the third round, and I realized that it would be useless for me to continue, as I could hardly see. It is hard to admit defeat, but Dempsey is the hardest puncher I ever faced."

Jack Kearns, manager for the new champion said: "Jack is a real champion. He knocked Willard out twice. They gave us the fight in the first round, then brought us back with the bell and Jack got him again in the third. Dempsey will be a popular champion."

Dempsey said: "I told you I would knock him out in the first round and to all intents and purposes that is what I did. He took a lot of punishment in the next two rounds, but was so feeble that I hated to have to hit him."

The following is the fight by rounds: ROUND ONE Willard landed the first blow, a right left to the head. The champion landed at right and left to the head. Dempsey hooked a left to the jaw. Dempsey missed a left and right to the head. Willard snapped a left to the jaw. Dempsey knocked Willard down with a right to the jaw twice. The champion took a count each time and when he rose up Dempsey knocked him down with a blow to the jaw. The challenger tore into him and knocked him down, flooring him with rights and lefts to the chin for a third knock-down. Willard was saved by the gong.

ROUND TWO Dempsey rushed Willard in the corner, pounding his jaw with rights and lefts. The champion's right eye was closed from the blows Dempsey landed. Dempsey walked around Willard carefully measuring him with rights and lefts to the jaw. Willard seemed dazed. Dempsey put three lefts to the head eye. Willard landed a feeble upper-cut. Willard's eye was rapidly closing.

Dempsey had to be called back into the ring for the second round because he thought he had won the fight. Willard staggered to his corner at the end of the second round.

ROUND THREE Dempsey hit Willard with lefts to the jaw. Dempsey sent rights to the jaw and lefts to the body. Dempsey peppered lefts to Willard's jaw without a return. Dempsey barked the champion to the ropes and hammered him with lefts and rights to the jaw and body. Dempsey put a right and left to the head and had the blood streaming from the champion's mouth. Willard landed a stinging upper-cut to Dempsey's jaw and Dempsey retaliated with a left to the jaw.

The challenger, although unmarked, was covered with blood which poured from Willard's mouth. At the end of the third round Willard threw up the sponge.

FOURTH FIGHT RESULTS

TOLEDO.—Jack Dempsey takes world's heavy-weight championship from Jess Willard after three rounds of fierce one-sided fighting.

Will Appear At Millbrook Today And Tomorrow

Before a vast throng that filled the grandstand to overflowing, Gabe's All Stars yesterday in a fitting manner by defeating Columbus to the tune of 5 to 1, accomplishing the feat with the same ease that the Salt Lake City Bruiser disposed of Champion Willard at Toledo. Incidentally the announcement of the Dempsey victory was met with loud acclamation by the multitude indicating that the new champion was an "odds on favorite" with the local fans.

Manager Joe Brennan's scholars played their usual fast game on the green, backing up their twirlers in fine style, their three misuses costing nothing while the visitors were absolutely helpless before the sharp shooting of Meyers and Rollins, securing but a single hit off the delivery of the huge right-hander, who gave way to Rollins in the sixth after too much caution on the base. Rollins yielded 56 but two hits, one a three-bagger by Chaffin in the eighth which bounded over Benton's head in center and saved the visitors from a shutout, the runner coming over on Koebling's sacrifice fly to center.

The locals hit Struck opportunistly, garnering 9 hits off his delivery which aided by mistakes by the opposing fielders enabled them to stay with the visitors played a good defense and for four innings the combat was a close affair.

Benton and Doherty led the onslaught for the locals each securing two hits, the former starting the fireworks in the first inning by doubling to center and counted on Doherty's shot to the same territory. The locals did not score again until the fifth when they added one on Meyers' single. Valodins' two cushion swing and a couple of wild throws. The count was increased three in the eighth when with one down Stillwell clipped a single to right and Rollins scored him by basting a handsome two-bagger to center. Doherty's single to left, a muff by Stettin and Keyser's swing to center for a base were good for the final score of 5 to 1 in the eighth. The score in figures:

Mendels Vs. "Gabs All Stars" At Millbrook Park On Sunday

Solvay Holds First Place By Defeating Steel Plant Team

The fans are assured of a great attraction at Millbrook Park, Sunday afternoon, when the Mendels, champions of the Capital City League, Columbus, will meet the Gabs All Stars in the third game of the present series. The fans were much impressed with the strength of the visitors on the afternoon of "fractious" day, when the All Stars defeated the locals 5 to 1. The locals got the honors of the game and did most of the hitting. The Mendels clearly demonstrated they were a dangerous aggregation and will be hard to hold. Manager Ansel, of the Columbus team, stated Saturday that he was very much impressed by the fairness of Portsmouth fans. "Why," they applied a good play by the visitors as freely as they do a similar play by their own team. I have been told that no more intelligent fans live than right here in Portsmouth and now I know it. Every player on my team was delighted with the reception accorded them by the fans at Millbrook, and I want to go on record as saying that those who attend Sunday's game at Millbrook will see one of the best of a game. The two teams look evenly matched to me and they will be battling out there from the top of the gong!

Manager Ansel is said to be the Frank Hancock of semi-pro base ball. He is well up in years, but knows the game from every viewpoint and directs the plays from the bench. He believes in the Mendels he has one of the strongest semi-pro teams in the country. He expects his team to take two out of three from the locals, while Manager Brennan of the All Stars is just as confident the visitors will do well to take one game if any. Manager Brennan has the call on seven pitchers, and has a well-balanced ball club.

The game Sunday afternoon will start at 2:30 o'clock and the fans can be guaranteed one of the best attractions of the season. The two teams are made up of clean playing athletes—fellows who play the game for the love of the sport and players who will keep on playing no matter how great the odds. The two teams are scheduled for a game at Millbrook Park Saturday afternoon and no doubt a large crowd will witness this scrap.

But the real tug of war will come on Sunday afternoon—come out and root for the All Stars who composed one of the best teams that has ever represented Portsmouth in semi-pro circles.

When word is received that she is leaving the Long Island coast, the C-4 will be taken out of her hangar here and the C-4 will be made ready at Rockaway Point, and they with scores of seaplanes from stations all along the coast, will pilot the R-34 on the last leg of her long journey to Mineola.

One entire street is flooded with petroleum, gasoline, wine, beer and olive oil. Wherever the chamber of labor is able to exercise authority goods are being transported to special warehouses under the red flag, even tram cars being pressed into this service. Large quantities of supplies are being turned over to the municipality in the Piazza Signoria, the chief square of the city. Money taken from shops is also being placed in the care of the municipality or the chamber of labor. Thousands of boxes of matches are being distributed free to the crowds.

It is presumed that the big biplane was diverted from the intended course across the Bay of Fundy as a result of fog. Her schedule called for passing over Halifax at midnight last night. The big airplane was forced to descend, owing to engine trouble and in landing was damaged beyond immediate repair. No member of the crew was injured.

Dempsey Acclaimed As Hero; Willard's Head Packed In Ice

Columbus Mendels Beaten By All Stars, 5-1

Winner Was Sure He Had Won In The First Round; Referee Thought Same

TOLEDO, July 5.—Though a new heavy-weight champion has been crowned in Jack Dempsey, and the outcome of fight fans has depopulated Toledo hotels, controversy still rages over the sensational defeat of Jess Willard here late yesterday afternoon.

So many gaudy spectacles developed during the nine minutes of terrific fight that spectators saw the scene the same. The uncertainty regarding the situation at the end of the first round when Dempsey left the ring believing that he had won with a knock-out, and the payment of such wages as heaped on when Willard was stopped, furnished unlimited material for argument.

So weak was the sound of the gong, and so great the uproar about the ring that Referee Donald failed to hear the bell and continued to count over Willard as he sat on the ring floor near a neutral corner, although Time-keeper Harbour ordered the ring when Donald's arm was falling for the seventh time. The referee notified Dempsey that he had won, and the Salt Lake City pugilist was well on his way to his dressing room before his manager overtook him and was told that he was in danger of being disqualified on a technicality for leaving the ring.

The question of which round Dempsey won his new title was placed before several veteran ring officials by men who had wagers at stake, and the consensus was that Dempsey stopped Willard in the third round, as the latter's seconds tossed the towel of defeat into the center of the ring before the bell rang for the beginning of the fourth session. These same veterans pointed out several other interesting features. They stated that it was the first time that a heavy-weight champion had ever admitted defeat without leaving his chair as well as the shortest heavy-weight championship contest of modern ring history.

Dempsey was soon dressed and much in evidence about the downtown section, followed by a wildly enthusiastic and cheering throng of admirers. When he appeared for dinner at the leading hotel, the corridors were a mass of swirling spectators who pecked at Willard's conqueror as he broke training and dined in a manner entirely different from the simple means of the past two months. At the same hour, his dejected opponent was resting in his temporary home in a residential section, with his battered head packed in ice bags and cut off from communication with the outside world by a guard that even the telephone could not penetrate. He was examined by the boxing commission physician, however, soon after his return from the ring. The latter stated officially that Willard was not seriously injured and would be able to appear in public as soon as his bruises and other marks of battle had yielded to ordinary treatment. These bruises, while most superficial, were vividly impressive during the fight and

Mendels Vs. "Gables All Stars" At Millbrook Park On Sunday

Solvay Holds First Place By Defeating Steel Plant Team

The fans are assured of a great attraction at Millbrook Park, Sunday afternoon, when the Mendels, champions of the Capital City League, Columbus, will meet the Gables All Stars in the third game of the present series. The fans were much impressed with the strength of the visitors as when the team of "Stars" defeated them 5 to 1. The All Stars defeated them 5 to 1. The Mendels clearly demonstrated they are in a dangerous position and will be hard to hold. Manager Ansel, of the Columbus team, stated Saturday that he was very much impressed by the fairness of Portsmouth fans. Manager Ansel is said to be the Frank Hancock of some base ball. He is well up in years, but knows the game from every standpoint and displays the plays from the bench. He believes in the Mendels he has one of the strongest and purest teams in the country. He expects his team to take two out of three from the locals while Manager Britton of the All Stars is just as confident the visitors will do well to take the game if any. Manager Britton has the ball on seven pitchers and has a well balanced ball club.

The game Solvay afternoon will start at 2:30 o'clock and the fans are guaranteed one of the best attractions of the season. The two teams are made up of clean playing athletes—fellows who play the game for the love of the sport and players who will keep on playing to master how great the odds. The two teams are scheduled for a game at Millbrook Park Sunday afternoon, and no doubt a large crowd will witness this scrap.

But the real tug of war will come on Sunday afternoon—when one and two of the All Stars who compose one of the best teams that has ever represented Portsmouth in semi-pro circles.

Will Appear At Millbrook Today And Tomorrow

Before a vast throng that filled the grandstand to overflowing Galdeman's All Stars celebrated the holiday yesterday in a fitting manner by admitting 5 to 1, accomplishing the feat with the same ease that the Salt Lake City lumberjacks disposed of the audience hard at Toledo. Individually the announcement of the Dempsey victory was met with loud huzzahs by the multitude indicating that the new champion was an "odds on favorite."

Manager Joe Brumby's scholars played their usual fast game on the green, backing up their twirlers in fine style, their three miscreants doing nothing while the visitors were absolutely helpless before the sharp shooting of Meyers and Hollins, securing a single hit off the delivery of the huge right-hander, who gave way to Rollins in the sixth after too much exertion on the base. Rollins yielded but two hits, one a three-bagger by Chaffin in the eighth which landed over Benton's bean in center and saved the visitors from a shutout, the runner coming over on Koolhins's sacrifice fly to center.

The locals hit Bruck, opportunely, garnering 9 hits off his delivery which aided by mistakes by the opposing fielders enabled them to top with ease. Outside of a couple of misadventures the visitors played a good defense and for four innings the combat was a close affair. Benton and Doherty led the onslaught for the locals each securing two hits, the former starting the fireworks in the first inning by doubling to center and scoring on Doherty's shot to the same territory. The locals did not score again until the fifth when they added one on Meyers' single. Valodins' two cushion swat and a couple of wild throws. The count was increased three in the eighth when with one down Stillwell "clipped" a single to right and Rollins scored him by basting a handsome two-bagger to center.
